

Monika Ivanovska is an expert and Master of Science in Marketing, a digital marketing trainer, and owner of the Think Think Marketing Agency. She has been internationally collaborating with global e-commerce clients for over 10 years, with extensive experience in digital marketing, artificial intelligence, postal services, and logistics.

She serves as President of Technical Committee 46 for Postal Services, Customs, and Logistics at the Institute for Standardization. She has worked on numerous projects related to digitalization and green agendas and is a strong supporter of women in green initiatives and business. She is the recipient of numerous certificates and awards, and her latest recognition is for the project "ELEVATE - Womens in Zero Technologies."